Current and past copies of Bellerive issues are available to purchase through the Pierre Laclède Honors College. To purchase, contact Audri Adams at (314) 516-4890 or via email at adamsaud@umsl.edu. Please note that limited copies are available for each issue, and once they have all been sold, no further copies will be produced.

All University of Missouri–St. Louis students, faculty, staff, and alumni are invited to submit original creative works that have not been previously published. Submissions are accepted from January 1 through October 1. We invite eligible individuals to submit up to 5 poems, up to 2 prose pieces (each at 4,000 words or less), 2 academic essays (up to 4,000 words or less), up to 5 digital images of photography/art, and up to 2 original music works (as audio files).

To learn more about submitting to Bellerive, email bellerivesubmit@umssystem.edu.

Submissions review is a blind process. Submitters' names are not disclosed during review. The new issue of Bellerive is launched at a reception in Provincial House each February.

Offered every fall, the Bellerive Workshop course is open to Pierre Laclède Honors College students interested in all aspects of producing Bellerive. The class focuses on all steps of publishing: reading and selecting works to be included, copy editing, communicating with submitters, designing layout, digital image editing, and marketing and selling of the publication. Individuals in the class choose which areas of contribution best suit their interests and talents.
