Modern Language BA with an emphasis in French

The French Program at UMSL develops learners who are both linguistically and culturally competent and ready to be global citizens. UMSL offers a broad range of coursework in French: foundational courses in language and culture, courses focused on the many facets of literature and culture, and pre-professional courses, all aimed at developing skills for the 21st century. Our dedicated faculty engage learners in and out of the classroom. You can expect a challenging, collaborative, and interactive environment in every course. Our students are a part of a larger learning community connected through our conversation group, numerous activities, and study abroad experiences.

Career Outlook

French is widely spoken on all continents as a native or second language and is used internationally for government, business, and education. By 2050 there will be over 750 million speakers thanks to a demographic boom in francophone Africa. French is an official language of numerous international organizations. Closer to home, French is spoken by the U.S.'s largest trading partner, Canada. Graduates have been especially successful when they combine studies in French with another major.
