Dear Rachel,

This message is to notify you that Don Maitz has raised a flag for you in Introduction to Microbiology. Flags are raised to alert you when you are not meeting course expectations. The flag and area(s) of concern are detailed below.

Tutoring Recommended

Rachel missed 3 classes this month.

The Student Academic Support Services unit is concerned about your academic progress and would like to provide you with effective support options to promote student success. We have resources in place that can aid you in improving your academic performance and/or assist you with personal concerns.

We are strongly encouraging you to seek tutorial support through the University Tutoring Center. You will find multiple tutoring options available (paired peer tutoring, walk-in tutoring, online tutoring and study hall sessions) to meet your individualized needs.

You are always welcome to meet or talk with an Academic or Success Coach to continue building your skills to perform better in the classroom. If you have any questions or would like to speak with someone immediately, please find our office information through the SEA service in MyConnect, email us at umslsea@umsl.edu or call us to schedule an appointment at (314) 516-5300.

Sincerely,

Student Academic Support Services
