HARNESSING THE POWER OF AI TO DO GOOD

Join a cross disciplinary panel of UMSL faculty to hear how they are using AI in their research and for thought-provoking discussion about AI and ethical considerations for its use including issues such as privacy, surveillance, and bias. After the panel, enjoy drinks and conversation with colleagues interested in using AI to do good in the world.

WHEN THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28 3:00PM – 5:00PM
WHERE EDCOLLABITAT
SPONSOR OFFICE OF RESEARCH, ECONOMIC & COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

MIXED DIALOG

Moderator
Anita Manion
Assistant Professor, Political Science

Panel
Badri Adhikari
Associate Professor, Computer Science

Jill Delston
Assistant Professor, Philosophy

Shea Kerkhoff
Associate Professor, Education

Keith Miller
William R. Orthwein, Endowed Professor for Life Long Learning in the Sciences, College of Education
Professor, Computer Science

Marisa Omori
Associate Professor, Criminology and Criminal Justice

Robert Paul
Curators Distinguished Professor, Psychological Sciences and Director, Missouri Institute for Mental Health

UMSL Research, Economic and Community Development
University of Missouri–St. Louis