St. Louis, Missouri

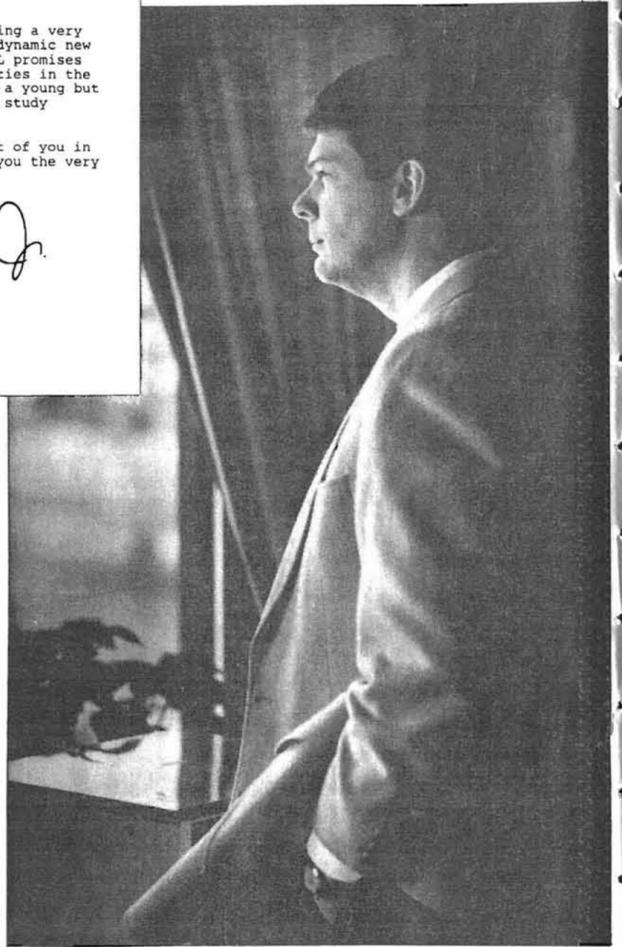

As Mayor of the City of Saint Louis, as well as an alumnus of UMSL, it gives me great pleasure to welcome all new and returning students to the University of Missouri - St. Louis for the 1986-87 school year.

The University of Missouri at St. Louis is entering a very challenging and hopeful period of its own. With the dynamic new leadership of Chancellor Marguerite Ross Barnett, UMSL promises to become one of the truly outstanding urban Universities in the United States. Bringing new vigor to the programs of a young but mature University will enrich both UMSL and those who study there.

You have a fine and rewarding experience in front of you in St. Louis and at the University of Missouri. I wish you the very best.

Sincerely,

UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI-ST. LOUIS

August, 1986

To Incoming Students:

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the University of Missouri-St. Louis. I know the excitement that accompanies the challenges of a new school year.

Some of you may be entering higher education for the first time. Others may be returning to explore areas of learning with renewed enthusiasm. To you both, I offer my very best wishes for the successful attainment of your educational goals. Our Campus offers a plethora of educational, cultural, and social activities. I urge you to take advantage of these opportunities.

As students of the University of Missouri-St. Louis, you will have the advantage of attending an urban university with a land grant tradition. Since their founding, land grant universities have played significant roles in the nation's economic and cultural development. This particular urban, land grant university is at a crucial point in its history. Recently we celebrated the 21st year of University of Missouri-St. Louis commencements. If we think of 20 years as a generation, this institution is at the end of its first generation. During that period, a superb faculty was recruited, a 177-acre campus was built and a challenging academic foundation laid. Almost 30,000 individuals have graduated from the University of Missouri-St. Louis. Therefore, you will have the exciting experience of being part of the dynamic growth of a young campus and you will also be present as that campus enters, what might metaphorically be called, a second generation. In that second generation, we will work to make this University an exemplary, urban land grant institution.

On behalf of the faculty, administrators, and staff, I want to wish you a happy and fulfilling year. We are pleased that you have enrolled at the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

I hope to have the opportunity to greet each and every one of you in person.

Sincerely,
Marguerite Ross Barnett

University History; Country Club To College Campus

The 128-acre parcel of land on which the campus sits began as the old Bellerive Country Club, a playground for its affluent members.

They swam in the lake, walked their golf course, and paraded through their immaculate clubhouse during summer dances. The course itself was formidable enough for use in deciding two Western Amateur Open golf championships -- one in 1949 and the other in 1953.

However, desiring to escape the spreading urban sprawl of St. Louis county, the membership of the club moved their facility to its present location at Ladue and Mason roads.

In April 1958, with difficulties in selling the old land mounting because of Bellerive city ordinances, the land was offered to the Normandy School District.

The school district was eager to purchase the land and buildings, for it meant that an elementary school and a community college could be added to the struggle of keeping up with the explosion of a student population within their district.

A bond issue was presented to voters on September 30, 1958, and passed 3,241 to 1,547. The bonds generated sold quickly, and on February 13, 1959, the school district acquired title to the property.

As the country club began its withdrawal, the Normandy educators surveyed their needs and goals. Discovering a substantial interest among the junior and senior classes at Normandy and other high schools, the district established the University of Missouri-Normandy Residence Center. UM agreed to pay the faculty and provide a library; the school district would furnish an administrator and supplement supplies and maintenance.

The first classes held at the infant university were on September 14, 1960. Four full-time faculty members taught 215 freshman students. C.E. Potter was installed as the first administrator, and he hired eight part-time instructors to boost instructional capability.

One of the Normandy educators who helped bring the university into being was Ward E. Barnes. Barnes, a St. Louis educator for over 35 years, helped get the original bond issue passed.

During those early years, Barnes was a driving force behind the building of the enrollment and curriculum of the university.

UM President Elmer Ellis strongly desired that the University of Missouri expand the facility to a four-year branch of the UM system.

Barnes, working with his close friend Dr. Ellis, changed this desire into a reality.

Barnes recalled getting a phone call from Ellis one Saturday morning: "Ward," he said, "Do you really think you can get 100 students to enroll in that program you're setting up?" And he replied, "Elmer I really think we will."

At that point, and a 1961-62 enrollment of over 400 students, discussions began. Ellis offered the Normandy School district $60,000 for the Residence Center, but a dispute over the bidding process necessary in state land transfer stalled Ellis's attempts of acquisition.

Considerable lobbying by Ellis, the UM Board of Curators and Governor John Dalton sparked editorial support from the St. Louis press, who compared the local situation with that of Kansas City, where the University of Kansas City was also being sought as a branch of the UM system. On Feb. 13, 1963 Bill 115 passed through the state House of Representatives by a vote of 150-3. Instrumental in its passage were state Senator Wayne Goode (D-fifth district) and Sen. Robert Young. Dalton signed the bill authorizing the sale on April 3, 1963.

The Residence Center had charged students $15 per credit hour, with a $50 downpayment required. Students outside the Normandy district were charged an additional $45. The center was not adequately supported financially. It had virtually no laboratory facilities, was extremely overcrowded into one building (the old clubhouse), and its library was stocked with around 900 dusty books.

FORE!: The clubhouse of the old Bellerive Country Club sits near where the Thomas Jefferson Library is located today. Bugg Lake is in the foreground of this photo from 1966, taken facing east from where ded into one building (the old clubhouse), and its library was stocked with around 900 dusty books.

However, students quickly organized their first student government, which empowered itself to collect a 15¢ parking fee and the accompanying $1 fine for illegally-parked cars.

As enrollment increased to 564 (Sept. 28, 1962), students had started the Tiger Cub newspaper and formed chorales and intramural sports programs.

The gregariousness of the Benton Hall is today. The ground was donated to the Normandy School District by the country club in 1959, and the first classes held here began on September 14, 1960.

earliest students is recorded by the Nov. 21, 1962 issue of the Tiger Cub. A strong editorial urging the curtailment of drinking on campus, linked with a ban on card playing in the school's only cafeteria, attest to some of the issues of the day.

Evidently things were out of hand, because the faculty handed 388 out of 551 students mid-term deficiencies. Administrator Potter also prohibited the wearing of burmuda shorts on campus, because they were not consistent with the school's dress code.

On behalf of the UM-St. Louis Student Association, welcome to the campus. The Student Association exists to provide student participation in the general administration and government of UMSL. The Student Association is working towards full student participation in university life, university affairs and policy decisions in addition to encouraging students to govern themselves and assume responsibility for their government. The Student Association achieves its objectives by working with faculty and administration as elected representatives of the student body and is responsible for presenting student concerns to the Student Association Assembly where legislation is approved. Student opinion to the faculty and administration is communicated through the University Senate. Elections for membership on the Assembly and Senate are held in April. Freshman and transfer students can be elected to the Student Association Assembly in September.

Assembly meetings have been tentatively scheduled for the second Sunday of each month during the academic year and are open to all. We strongly encourage you to become involved in student government through direct election to the Assembly or Senate, through membership and participation in student groups and Senate committees, or through membership and participation in student groups.

The Student Association maintains an office in room 262 of University Center. We are open from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Friday. Feel free to drop by for more information on student affairs or give us a call at 553-5105.

- UMSL enrolled 11,082 students in credit courses during the 1985-86 academic year. Continuing Education-Extension served an additional 45,000 St. Louis area residents.
- UMSL students typically attend classes part-time (52 percent) and work ten or more hours per week (75 percent).
- The "average" UMSL student is 25 years old. Enrollment is divided equally between men and women. Black student enrollment was 9.8 percent of the total in 1985-86.
- UMSL granted degrees to its first senior class in 1967. The University now has more than 28,000 alumni. More than 80 percent of them live and work in the St. Louis area.
- UMSL offers master's degree programs in 20 fields.
- UMSL offers undergraduate study in 38 disciplines, plus several interdisciplinary certificate programs.

UMSL Police To Regulate Campus

The campus police do more than just hand out parking violations. The department oversees emergency vehicle services, a student patrol service, bicycle registration, vehicle registration, seminars and emergency phones. Emergency phone are located in every building and in several parking lots. Pick up and dial 5155 for assistance.

The Emergency Vehicle Service operates from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, and can come in handy when it's ten degrees below zero and your car battery says "no go." Call 553-5155 for assistance.

Ever since the first parking violation was issued in the early 1960's on this campus, the student vs. the parking sticker campaign has existed.

To avoid uncomfortable encounters with the UMSL police, obtain a parking permit right away. After two or three $25 tickets, you'll decide to get one anyway.

Allow yourself enough time before class to find a parking space. Then you won't need to come up with a really good excuse for the policeman when he tickets you for parking in a area designated for someone else.

To pay a parking violation, report to the Cashier's Office. To appeal the violation you must file a written appeal within two weeks calendar weeks from the date of the University Statement sent to your home.

The appeal will then be taken to the student court for review. The recommendation of the student court will be final.

A student can request that his case be reviewed by the vice chancellor for Student Affairs, but this must be done within one week of the court's written decision.

BUSTED! A parking ticket rests on an unsuspecting windshield on campus last semester. The campus police department does more than just hand out tickets. The department provides emergency vehicle services, bicycle registration, student patrol, as well as other services.

Last year, legislation was enacted that authorized the UM Board of Curators to establish traffic regulations on the four campuses.

The campus police now have the same powers for enforcement that are held by municipal and county police officers.

On this campus, pedestrians in crosswalks have the right of way. Therefore, vehicles must stop for pedestrians in crosswalks.

The speed limit on campus is 20 miles per hour and students, faculty, staff and visitors are required to park in assigned areas.

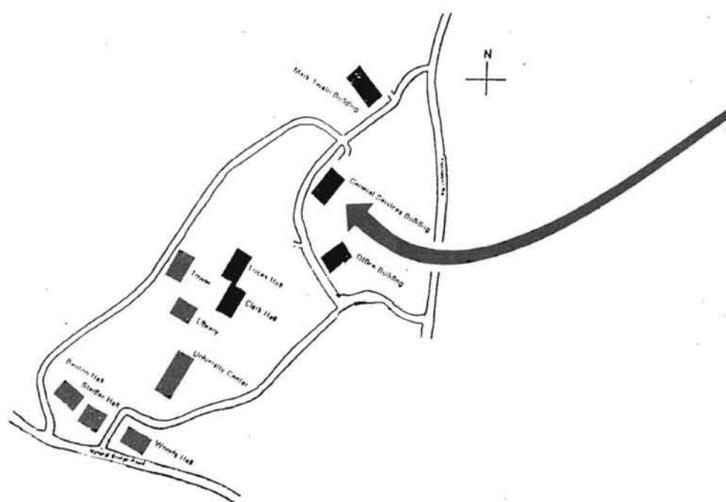

The campus police are instructed to enforce these regulations and issue summonses for non-compliance, with all summonses being forwarded to the St. Louis County Circuit Court in Clayton, Missouri.

EVENING STUDENT PERSONALITY TEST

Instructions: Answer the following questions as honestly as you can.

1.) Would you like for the memories of your college career here at UMSL to be something more than the long walks to and from the parking lot?

Yes                       No

2.) Would you like to meet others and involve yourself in activities which can provide a suitable outlet and sufficient opportunity to expand your horizons?

Yes                       No

If you answered "Yes" to one or both of the questions above, You should consider becoming a member of the UMSL Evening College Council.

The Evening College Council is looking for evening students who have some ideas about how to make life as an UMSL evening student more enjoyable and who can also dedicate a couple of hours a month to put those ideas into action.

Evening College Offers Diversity

The Evening College of the University of Missouri-St. Louis offers 24 degree programs in the Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Nursing that conform to the requirements established by the appropriate school or department. One non-traditional degree program, the Bachelor of General Studies, is also offered. Approximately, 195 students complete degrees through the Evening College each year.

Degree offerings include the Bachelor of Arts (with 11 major options), the Bachelor of General Studies, the Bachelor of Science (with 6 major areas), the Bachelor of Science in Administration of Justice, the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, the Bachelor of Science in Education, the Bachelor of Science in Public Administration and the Bachelor of Science in Social Work. Minors and certificates are also offered. Academic advisors assist new and returning students in the selection of appropriate courses and discuss relevant degree requirements. The Evening College office is open 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Friday. The Evening College Council represents evening students in matters concerning them. The council is responsible for the Koffee Klatch held each Monday and Tuesday evening. In addition, other social events are coordinated by the Council.

Evening College students are encouraged to become involved with the council. For information call 553-5162. In addition to the council, the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Sigma Lambda is the honor society for Evening College students. The organization recognizes students with outstanding academic records. The chapter welcomes new members at its annual banquet held each spring. For information call 553-5161.

NIGHT LIGHT: The Social Sciences and Business Building glows brightly during evening classes. Students who attend evening classes are encouraged to socialize with fellow evening students who share the same problems created by a full schedule.

NIGHT TIME: Two students walk across a deserted UMSL campus on their way to an evening class, taking advantage of the university's commitment to easy access to higher education. The university offers a wide variety of majors for the serious student with a full-time occupation.

Evening College Dean Encourages Perseverance

By Joy Whitener
Evening College Dean

How long will it take to complete a degree? The answer, of course, depends on the circumstances unique to each individual. Important considerations include demands of one's job, family responsibilities, commitment and perseverance. Understandably, employed students sometimes become impatient during the long grind to finish a college degree. One must carefully weigh their priorities and make a firm commitment despite weariness and temporary setbacks. Most evening students enter the university after having attended at least one other institution of higher education. Most have heavy demands on their time and energy. Most are in a hurry. A survey of graduates of the Evening College revealed a wide range in the number of semesters required to complete a degree. This number is obviously related to the number of hours accumulated prior to entering the university. The typical student enrolled in the Evening College completes a degree in ten semesters. Sure it is tough, but most graduates of the Evening College have many years to enjoy the benefits of their efforts. If you become weary and discouraged, remember there are a lot of people who have finished the course who say, "It was worth it."

CENTER FOR ACADEMIC DEVELOPMENT

The Center for Academic Development offers services to UMSL students in a number of areas. Most of these services are free to the users and available on a "drop-in" basis. Services and hours for Fall 1986 are:

Mathematics Lab 425 SSB

Hours: Monday — Friday 8 a.m. — 3 p.m.
Monday — Thursday 5 p.m. — 9 p.m.

Tutorial assistance with mathematics courses, statistics, applied mathematics. Walk-in, free of charge.

Writing Lab 409 SSB

Hours: Monday — Thursday 9 a.m. — 3 p.m.
Friday 9 a.m. — 2 p.m.

Evenings — Two evening days and time to be arranged.

Professional assistance with all forms of writing problems and assignments. Walk in, free of charge.

Supplemental Instruction

Group tutorial instruction linked to sections of regular UMSL classes. SI sections are shown in the course schedule with a star. Free of charge.

Reading Lab 409 A SSB

Hours: Monday — Friday 9 a.m. — 2 p.m.

Assistance with development of reading and study skills. Free of charge.

Math review sessions are available for students wishing to review before taking the Math Placement test. See Fall '86 schedule for details.

For more information on any of the above services, call the Center office (553-5194) or come to Room 507 Tower.

University Urges Utilization Of Services

At the moment you're busy just finding your way from building to building; soon you'll need to learn how to find things in some of those buildings, including the library.

Much of what you'll find in the Thomas Jefferson Library will be similar to what you may have used or seen in other libraries; much will be different. Listed below are just a few of the things we would like you to know about:

The Self-Guided Tour, available at the Reference Desk, allows you to learn, at your own pace, the locations of collections and services in the library.

LUMIN, the on line catalog, currently contains most of the books owned by the UMSL libraries, as well as holdings of the other three University of Missouri campuses. Eventually it will totally replace the card catalogs. It is designed to be self-explanatory, but we will be offering several LUMIN orientations this fall. Watch the Current for details.

A little nervous about college term papers? The Research Paper Assistance Program may help. Fill out a form telling us exactly what your assignment is, give us a couple of days to do some background work, then spend some time one-on-one with a librarian to find the best way to approach your topic. More information and the forms are available at the Reference Desk.

Need a book or article we don't own? Requests for such items can be made through the Interlibrary Loan Office.

We will try to locate what you need at another library, and have it sent here. (Allow at least 10 working days for its arrival.) There may be a charge for this service; you can indicate if and how much you are willing to pay when you place your request.

These are just few of the services that are available at the Thomas Jefferson Library. For more information or assistance in any type of library work, please stop at the Reference Desk.

The Western Historical Manuscript Collection in the Thomas Jefferson Library documents St. Louis' rich cultural heritage, a heritage waiting for the research efforts of enterprising students. The collection provides primary source material—organizational records, personal papers, oral history interviews, audio and video tapes—to students in history, English, political science, art and other disciplines. In addition to making these research materials available, the WHMC staff is on hand to suggest paper topics and possible areas of study.

The collections reflect important and often overlooked dimensions of local history. For instance, one of the country's first anti-nuclear lobbying groups, the Committee for Nuclear Information, began here, as did one of the first correctional halfway houses, the Dismas House. The Democratic Party first adopted a woman's suffrage plank at its 1916 convention in St. Louis. An emergency convention of the Socialist Party of America the following year voted to oppose U.S. involvement in World War I.

During the Depression, the St. Louis riverfront became the site of the country's largest Hooverville shantytown. A local social service agency called the Bureau for Men served as a national model for the establishment of soup kitchens and cafeterias to help feed the unemployed in the 30s. Evicted sharecroppers in Southeast Missouri organized a sit-down strike in 1939; labor strikes proliferated in St. Louis during the years following the Second World War.

The list of St. Louis natives whose lives are documented by the collection includes MEDICO founder Thomas Dooley, rock performer Chuck Berry, pioneer environmentalist Kay Drey, consumer activist Alberta Slavin and Lieutenant Governor Harriett Woods.

The Western Historical Manuscript Collection is located on the second floor of the Thomas Jefferson Library using the southwest stairwell. The collection remains

Where did the ducks on Bugg Lake go in the winter? Where did Bugg Lake go between semesters? Students have found the answers to these and other questions at the University Archives located on the second level (southwest stairwell) of the T.J. Library.

Among other things, the Archives houses publications, reports, studies, and office files created at UMSL. Collections include fully indexed back issues of the Current (dating from 1960, when it was called the Tiger Cub), yearbooks, student directories, and photographs of campus events.

If you are doing research for a paper, or just have a question about UMSL's past, the University Archives is open from 8:00 until 5:00 (and until 9:00 on Tuesdays). reference service is available.

The scene: You have a thousand word biology paper due tomorrow at 8:00 a.m. The buddy that was going to lend you his book now says that his baby sister thought it was a coloring book and the chapter you need is now maroon and green and hanging on his refrigerator a Pasta House Company magnet.

Your topic is "How a Fertilized Oosphere Formed in the Oogonium, Develops into an Oospore," and the letter "o" is missing from your typewriter. Where should you turn in your time of need? One helpful place on campus might be the University Center.

The Bookstore is the campus headquarters for buying and selling textbooks and offers a complete selection of popular, hardcover and paperback books. Study aids, school supplies as well as commencement announcements and caps and gowns can be ordered through the bookstore. Presently under renovation, the remodeled store should reopen in the basement of the University Center sometime this fall.

After you are mentally exhausted from scholarly and weekend pursuits, a good place to go and eat Snickers bar and complain about that nasty Botany T.A. is the Student Lounge.

Join your fellow umslites in Room 152 of the University Center for well deserved class break. Other areas, which might be more conducive to study in, can be found in the Social Science Building, Bento Hall and Clark Hall.

Electric typewriters with openable letters "o" can be located on the second floor of the University Center in Room 272. The current fee for the typewriters is 25-cents for 15 minutes or 10-cents for 10 minutes.

There are a variety of other services available in the University Center that can assist you during the school year.

The Housing Referral Service is located in Room 250 of the University Center and provides listings of apartments, houses, and rooms for rent in the St. Louis area. Lists of persons requesting roommates are also available.

Homesharing is a program designed to bring together senior citizens wishing to share their homes with UMSL students seeking housing. In this program the student will provide services in exchange for reduced or no rent. For more information about any of the housing referral services call 553-5531.

Outside of the University Center there are a number of other offices and services that can be utilized. The Student Health Center provides out-patient medical care, health education and referral services. Located in Room 127 Wood Hall, it is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Evening hours are in effect when evening classes are in session. No appointment is necessary.

Handicapped parking stickers are available. See, SERVICES, page 8

What students are saying about U. Singers:

"It's not just the music, it's the whole experience!"

"I enjoy the opportunity to travel with a group I can take pride in ... and with virtually all expenses paid!"

"I've made so many new friends & met some very special people. We work hard, but we also enjoy lots of fun times together outside of rehearsal."

"It's a chance to develop and contribute your abilities to the group effort to produce something that has lasting value for yourselves and others."

"I wish I hadn't waited a year to audition!"

"The scene was Washington, D.C. ... and here we were at the Kennedy Center, the sophisticated national center of culture ... waiting for OUR University Singers to present their concert ... and I was very, very impressed.

The performance was totally professional, a top class act that any choral group would be hard-pressed to follow. This was OUR school, OUR university, OUR campus out there in front, setting a standard of such high quality and excellence."

The Veteran's Affairs Office offers assistance to veterans in making the transition from military to student life as easy as possible.

A staff of peer counselors, male and female, are available to help fellow veterans deal with school, jobs, housing, drugs, or any other problems they may encounter. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Thursday and Friday, and 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday. For more information call 553-5315 or stop by 346 Woods Hall.

The UMSL Women's Center is an information and resource center for women on campus. Information and referral services are offered and include lists of community services offered to women and women professionals in the St. Louis area.

Methods of accessing women's organizations and networks are also provided. The Center also offers short-term counseling for any student who feels she needs assistance. All conversations with staff members are kept confidential.

The Center offers a place to relax, have coffee and share experiences with other students and is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Evening Hours vary with each semester, and the Center is changing locations, so call 553-5380 for schedule details and location of the Center.

The Wellness Network is designed to help students, faculty and staff make intelligent health decisions which help them lead happier and healthier lives. There are several programs included in the network; among them are the Optometry Clinic (152 Marillac Hall, 553-5131) that provides the UMSL community with vision care, the Counseling Service (427 SSB, 553-5711) which offers free professional assistance to students, faculty and staff with personal, social, educational or career concerns, the Athletics/Intramurals (225 & 203 Mark Twain, 553-5641 and 553-5125) offers open recreation and organized intramural activities and the Community Psychological Service (231 Stadler Hall, 553-5824) which provides psychological services on an out-patient basis.

Also included in the Wellness Network are Student Health Service (127 Woods Hall, 553-5671) which provides basic health screening and referral services for health-related matters, the School of Nursing (116 or 119 South Campus Classroom Building, 553-6067) which offers a variety of health screening, education teaching, counseling and information/referral services to UMSL students, faculty and staff, and the ROTC Program (44 BMOB, 553-5176) which prepares college men and women for appointments as second lieutenants in the U.S. Army either reserve or active.

BABY FACES: These baby faces belong to the children of UMSL students, faculty and staff and community residents. The Child Development Center is open year-round to care for children aged six months to five years. In a fun filled, educational environment the children are able to wait for Mom or Dad to finish class or work.

The Child Development Center provides year-round daycare/preschool services for children from six months to five years. Both full and part-time programs are available.

The Center services UMSL students, faculty and staff and community residents. Operating hours are Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. For more information call 553-5658, or stop by the Center during operating hours.

The Office of News Services, located in 421 Woods Hall functions as a news bureau for the university and serves the media through news and photo releases about faculty and student achievement, program development and cultural events.

In addition, the office also writes feature stories and acts as a liaison between media and faculty authorities and experts on specific subjects, and arranges radio, television and print interviews.

The office is also responsible for UMSL News, a weekly newsletter distributed to faculty and staff, and UMSL Magazine, a quarterly magazine designed for alumni faculty and staff and select members of the St. Louis community. For more information call 553-5663.

The Center for Academic Development, located in 506 Tower, is an academic support program for UMSL students who may require some assistance in their studies. It includes the Special Service Unit with a Summer Challenge session, a tutorial lab and advisers.

The Mathematical Unit gives special help in mathematics, and the Communication Unit offers a Reading and Writing Lab, with tutorial assistance in writing skills. For more information call 553-5194.

The Chemistry Department Is Looking For A Few Serious Students

Our majors succeed

- in securing good jobs especially in St. Louis which is a major center for chemical industry. At the largest employers of chemists, Monsanto, Mallinckrodt and Petrolite, there are more UM-St. Louis Chemistry graduates than there are of any other single institution.
- in admission to professional schools. Chemistry is the best preparation for this. More than 100 UM-St. Louis chemistry graduates have received MD, DDS, DO and Ph.D. degrees.
- and enjoy the satisfaction of completing a rigorous curriculum whether they choose:

The Bachelor of Science in Chemistry Degree
The Bachelor of Arts in Chemistry
Or The B.A. Degree in Chemistry with Teacher Certification or with Business Option.

We also offer M.S. and Ph.D. degrees... but that comes later.

Last year the Chemistry department was selected for development into a center for eminence — the first program so designated at UM-St. Louis and one of only eight in Missouri.

For more information, stop by in 324 Benton Hall and ask to see the chairperson. We want to get you to the top as soon as possible.

The UMSL Continuing Education-Extension will offer "Community Chorus" on Tuesdays, August 26-December 2, 7-9 p.m., Room 205, Music Building on the UMSL campus.

Instructor for the course is John Hylton. He is an assistant professor of music at UMSL and an experienced vocal soloist and choral conductor. He presently is responsible for the choral music educational programs at UMSL, and is director of music at Kirk of the Hills Presbyterian Church. Fee for the course is $20.

For more information, call Joe Williams at 553-5961.

The UMSL Continuing Education-Extension will offer Community Band on Wednesdays, August 27-December 3, 7-9 p.m., Room 205, Music Building, on the UMSL campus, 8001 Natural Bridge Road.

Instructor for the course is Terry Austin. Austin, assistant professor in music and AFSE at UMSL, conducts the Symphonic Band and the Wind Ensemble and teaches courses in instrumental music education. He has also acted as the assistant band director for the Hula Bowl Band at the University of Hawaii.

Fee for the course is $20. For more information call Joe Williams at 553-5961.

The UMSL Continuing Education-Extension will offer three courses in cooperation with Collegiate Division of CASA, the St. Louis Conservatory of Music and Schools for the Arts, beginning this fall.

The Conservatory is a private, not-for-profit, educational institution for the arts in music and opera located at 560 Trinity in University City. It is an accredited member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

The Extension will also offer credit courses at Lindbergh High School, in South County, beginning with week of August 25, 1986, and continuing through December 10, 1986. All classes may be taken for three credit hours and will meet from 6:30 to 9:15 p.m. Call 553-5667 for information about the Extension.

Psychology 03, General Psychology, and History 31, Topics in European Civilization: Emergence of Western Europe, will meet Monday evenings from 6:00-9:00 p.m. beginning September 8. Italian 190, Special Readings, will meet Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2-4:30 p.m. beginning September 9. These courses earn three credit hours and are open to the general public.

The Affirmative Action Office has specific responsibility for the University's compliance with civil rights laws and regulations regarding discrimination based on race, sex, color, national origin, religion, age or handicap.

The office compiles data and prepares analyses on the campus' progress in increasing the number of members of protected groups. Most of these analyses are included in our Annual Report which is on reserve in the Thomas Jefferson Library.

The Affirmative Action Office also counsels UMSL students who believe they have been discriminated against because of race, sex or disability.

Although the University grievance procedures available to students are administered through the Office of Student Affairs and the Office of Academic Affairs, students may receive confidential information and advice on such issues as sexual harassment and discrimination in the classroom or in classroom materials in the affirmative Action Office.

The Affirmative Action Office is located in Woods 440 and is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. For information, call 553-5695.

Rex Matzke, assistant professor of music, has announced that open auditions for the UMSL band and orchestra will be held on August 25, 1986 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. in Room Room 205 of the Music Building.

PLAY BALL! The elderly of the community participate in one of the recreational programs offered at the UMSL Eldercare Center. The center is a day care program sponsored by the Continuing Education-Extension.

Open auditions will also be held for the UMSL Jazz Ensemble that week on Tuesday, August 26, at 4 p.m. in Room 205 of the Music Building.

The Music Building is located on the south campus, one block east of the main entrance to the north campus. Call 553-5980 for information.

The Eldercare Center, 8351 South Florissant Road, operated by the UMSL Continuing Education-Extension celebrated one year of operation over the summer.

The center operates as a day care facility for approximately 20 elderly clients. Recreational, educational and social activities are provided under the supervision of a registered nurse and social worker.

Services at the Eldercare Center are made possible through funding from the Mid-East Agency on Aging. Call 553-0155 for more information.

Financial assistance at UMSL is available in the form of grants, loans, and work-study (part-time employment) or a combination of these. Our desire is to help the qualified student who is in need of financial assistance.

Most awards are based upon financial need, but specific funds may have additional eligibility requirements. Federal financial aid programs require that applicants be U.S. Citizens, or permanent residents.

In addition, financial aid is awarded on an academic year basis; therefore, a student must apply for aid each year. For further information you may contact the Financial Aid Office in Room 209 Woods Hall, 553-5526.

The School of Business Administration's Office of Undergraduate Academic Advising has available a staff of professional academic advisors who provide assistance to students in Planning their Academic Career.

The office also assists in appropriate course selection; general education requirements; evaluation of transfer credit; career information; course prerequisites; school policy and regulations; graduation requirements; and other matters related to a student's academic articulation.

Prospective business administration students who are admitted to the College of Arts and Sciences or the Evening College should submit an official declaration of their major to the dean's office of the College to which they have been admitted.

They will then be assigned to the School of Business Administration for advisement.

Transfer students at the junior or senior level who have been admitted to the school of Business Administration should contact the advising office and plan to meet with an adviser early in the semester for an evaluation of transfer credit and planning of their degree program.

The School of Business Administration Student Policy Committee consists of undergraduate and graduate student representatives with an interest in serving the needs of students in the School of Business Administration.

The Student Policy Committee provides a liaison between the student body, the dean and the faculty and staff of the School of Business Administration.

If you have an interest in finding out more about the advising office or the Student Policy Committee call 553-5881.

Women's Studies at UMSL is part of a national movement which promotes a fuller educational experience for both women and men.

Over the past fifteen years, scholars have increasingly turned their attention to women in their research and writing, and the new scholarship forms the basis for Women's Studies courses.

Women's Studies courses are offered in a variety of disciplines and include the study of women of diverse races, classes and social conditions. All courses fill one of the general education requirements and are open to all UMSL students.

Among the courses offered this fall are "Topics in Women and Literature," "Women in U.S. History" and "Women and the Law." Evening courses include "Women and the Visual Arts" and "Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Women." A complete listing of courses appears in the Fall schedule under "Certificate in Women's Studies Courses."

A Certificate in Women's Studies, equivalent to a minor, is meant to supplement a student's traditional academic major and to facilitate career goals that focus on women's issues. The opportunity to earn a certificate is available to all undergraduates pursuing a degree as well as to those who have already completed a bachelor's degree.

Faculty, students, and staff in the Women's Studies community work together in monthly Program board meeting. Student participation is encouraged and welcomed. The Program Board sponsors four noon-hour presentations each semester, regular potluck socials, a Women's Studies Newsletter, and a writing award competition which includes cash prizes. In April, 1987, UMSL will host the Midwestern Region Women's Studies' Association annual conference.

For more information on Women's Studies courses, activities, and the Certificate requirements, or to be included on the program mailing list, call 553-5581 or visit the Women's Studies office at 558 Lucas Hall between 8:00 and 3:00 during the school week.

The Public Policy Administration at UMSL includes the Master's Program in Public Policy Administration, the Public Policy Extension and the Public Affairs Internship Program.

The Master's Program is a professional interdisciplinary graduate program preparing students for careers in the public sector, non-profit organizations, and related positions. The program is open to full time students as well as part time ones.

The Public Policy-Extension is the consulting and service arm of the Public Policy program. The extension does management reviews and organization studies for public sector organizations and survey work.

It designs and conducts the statewide Missouri Poll and other surveys for a wide variety of local St. Louis area and Missouri governments.

The Public affairs internship program is administered by the Public Policy Administration on behalf of the Master's program and the Political Science Department. It consists of placements in the St. Louis area and the State Legislative Internship Program each winter in Jefferson City. Students enroll for three or six credits and the program is open to both graduate and undergraduate students.

For more information about these programs call 553-5145.

Certificate Programs in International Studies - The Center administers, for the College of Arts and Sciences, the undergraduate certificates in East Asian studies, European studies, international studies, and Latin American studies.

These certificates, which combine course offerings from different departments, enable students to earn the equivalent of a minor in addition to their major.

Certificates earned are noted on a student's transcript. Lists of requirements and application forms are available in the Center.

Study Abroad Office - The Center has information on study abroad and student exchange programs. A wide range of programs are available including the UMSL student exchange programs and programs offered by other institutions. Currently, UMSL has the following exchange programs:

The MLP offers a variety of undergraduate courses during the fall and winter semesters, and during the summer. The program is sponsored by a group of Missouri universities including UMSL. Courses are taught by faculty members of the participating Missouri universities and are held at the MLP facility near Hyde Park and Kensington Gardens. Brochures are available in the Center.

International Studies Career Cluster - The College of Arts and Sciences and the center organized the international studies career cluster to bring together students and faculty who share an interest in international affairs and careers. Students and faculty meet about once a month for some program/social event. Contact the Center if you wish to be put on the mailing list.

Scholarships and Awards - The Center awards a number of James S. McDonnell Scholarships each year to recognize meritorious students of international and cross-cultural studies. In addition, the Center conducts the James S. McDonnell Essay competition for student essays on international affairs. Contact the Center for additional information.

International Seminar Series - Each year the Center presents a number of guest speakers on matters of interest in international studies and foreign affairs. Seminars, which are open to all who are interested, are listed in the Current and announcements are posted on campus bulletin boards.

The Center for International Studies is located in Room 366 Social Science and Business Bldg. For more information, call 553-5753.

The most demanding, challenging, enlightening, rigorous, satisfying, difficult, rewarding, motivating and exciting course you can take in college.

ARMY RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

For more information call Captain Jon Boyle at 553-5176 or stop by 44 Blue Metal Office Building located on campus.

Student Organizations Add Variety

University life can be enriched by involvement in a campus or student organization which enables you to meet others with similar interests.

To contact any of the recognized student groups categorized below, leave a note in the organization's mailbox, located on the second floor of the University Center. Include your name, address and phone number. Message forms can be found on the bulletin board opposite the boxes.

For your convenience, these organizations have been grouped into the following categories: curriculum oriented, fine arts, Greek letter (fraternities and sororities), political, religious, and special interest.

Curriculum Oriented

● The Accounting Club provides an exposure to various career opportunities in the field of accounting as well as an opportunity for students and accounting faculty to become better acquainted.

Past activities have included speakers from accounting firms and specialists, and an end-of-the-semester party.

● Beta Alpha Psi is a fraternity of accounting majors which sponsors speaker meetings, seminars with accounting firms and industry, senior receptions, and business meetings. Service projects have included blood drives, Old Newsboys' Day, and a tax service.

● The Biology Club encourages investigation in the life sciences through field trips, meetings, seminars and social activities.

Projects have included assisting the Biology Department in some of their projects.

● Delta Sigma Pi is a coed business fraternity which has sponsored speakers from major corporations for meetings and seminars, and performs civic functions as well.

Members must have at least a sophomore standing and a GPA of 2.2 or better.

● Kappa Delta Pi, Mu Iota Chapter is an honor society in education, which concentrates basically on themes and issues related to professional education. The society sponsors panel discussions and socials, and participates in several service activities.

● The Marketing Club brings in monthly speakers to discuss marketing principles in an effort to provide a bridge between marketing theory and practice.

The club also provides social opportunities which have included a spring picnic and both Steamers and Blues Hockey games.

● The Mathematics Club offers students a chance to meet other interested students and faculty interested in mathematics as well as insights into the various opportunities in the field of mathematics.

In recent years the club has sponsored such activities as a series of films, a computer programming contest, a tour of McDonnell Douglas' Information Systems facilities, and a series of guest speakers.

● The National Optometric Student Association provides service and education to the general public. The association sponsors speakers, social events, screenings, study guides, convention travel and national participation in such groups as the Optometric Extension Program.

Social activities have included golf tournaments, parties and float trips.

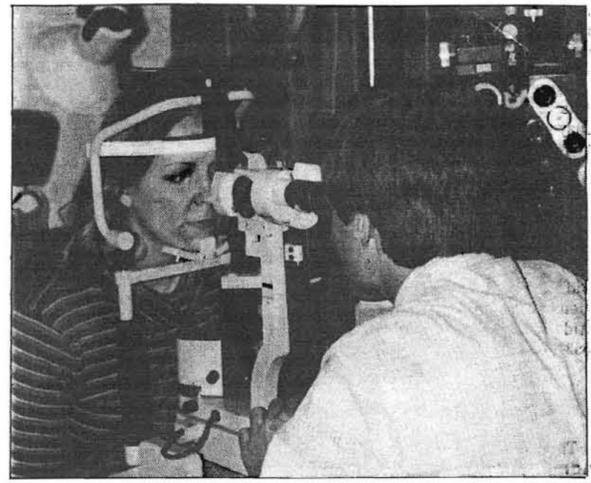

Eligibility requires enrollment in the Optometric Program.

● Peer Counseling meets the needs of UMSL students who might feel more comfortable discussing personal, academic, and/or career concerns with a fellow student who has been trained to help.

Undergraduates who have completed Psychology 60 and 61 utilize skills taught in those courses for counseling individuals with academic, family, relationship or general concerns, and also conduct workshops on career exploration, interview and resume skills, academic and time management, as well as stress management.

● The Physics Club supplies exposure to the field of physics through presentations, speakers, and field trips, and seeks to offer information from representatives of different areas in industry to which a career in physics would apply.

● Pi Sigma Epsilon is a national professional fraternity in marketing, sales management and selling which provides a link between collegians and the professional world. Activities have included the application of classroom theory to different marketing, selling and community service projects, and also meeting with business leaders as well as attending conventions.

● The Psychology Organization gives students a chance to interact with faculty, administrative staff, and psychology students in activities which include programs, workshops, speakers and field trips.

● Rho Nu promotes professional, social, and legislative activities of unique concern to the nursing student. It strives to be the voice of the nursing student body in university affairs.

Activities have included a float trip, a brunch, Greek Week, a food drive, the Health Fair and the Blood Drive.

All registered nurses are eligible for membership.

● Student Missouri State Teachers Association supports leadership training, research efforts, guest speakers, and publications.

A yearly event is travel to participate in the delegate assembly.

● Student National Education Association supplements the School of Education's curriculum by providing services and activities of a pre-professional nature.

Events have included workshops, holiday luncheons, dinners and service activities. The association is open to education majors and provides liability insurance to its members during student teaching.

● Other curriculum oriented groups include the Administration of Justice Honor Society, the Pre-Optometry Club, the Students for the Advancement of Sociology, and Volunteer Optometric Services to Humanity.

Sororities

There are three National Panhellenic Conference sororities on campus. Formal rush for all groups is held starting August 17 in the J.C. Penney building. More information can be obtained from the Office of Student Activities, 250 University Center, 553-5536. After August 26, interested women may contact each individual sorority.

- Alpha Xi Delta was the first national sorority on campus, founded locally in 1968 and nationally in 1893. Colors are light blue, dark blue and gold. The badge of membership is the quill; the flower is the pink Killarney rose, and the mascot is the teddy bear.
- Zeta Tau Alpha, or Zetas, were founded nationally in 1898. Colors are steel grey and turquoise blue. The badge is a shield of black superimposed on a shield of gold; the flower is the white violet, and the mascot is the ladybug.
- Delta Zeta was founded nationally in 1902. Colors are old rose and green. The badge is the Roman lamp; the flower is the Killarney rose, and the mascot is the turtle.

Fraternities

Fraternity rush for men is conducted differently from that of the sororities. Interested men should contact each fraternity directly for more information.

- Sigma Pi was the first men's national fraternity on campus, founded in 1969. Sigma Pi currently holds the highest all-men's grade point average of all the men's organizations on campus. In the past, the fraternity held the Greek Week champions' spot for fourteen years in a row. Contact Rick Welliver at 427-9179 or visit the fraternity house at 8645 Natural Bridge.
- Pi Kappa Alpha, Zeta Phi chapter, established itself on campus in 1969. The Pikes have won Greek Week for the past four years and sponsor a pumpkin pie eating contest each Thanksgiving with benefits going to the St. Vincent's Orphanage in Normandy. This year they will be sponsoring their 13th annual spring break trip to Florida. Contact Tim Larsen at 423-2366 or visit the fraternity house at 8826 Natural Bridge. Rush parties are held every Wednesday night.

PIE FACE! Is it a Greek eating pie or a pie eating Greek? The annual Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity pumpkin pie eating contest is held to raise money for the St. Vincent's Home for Children. There are other activities sponsored by the Greeks throughout the year. Greek Week, which is held in the spring, is an entire week filled with games and contests.

- Tau Kappa Epsilon. The Omicron Omicron chapter, or Tekes, celebrated its tenth year on campus last year, and are members of the fraternity with the most chapters in the country. Tau Kappa Epsilon is also an international fraternity. One yearly event includes a keg roll with benefits going to St. Jude's Children's Hospital. Call the Teke hotline at 739-1505 for a recorded message on party dates and times.

Other Greek Letter organizations on campus include Alpha Kappa Alpha, Alpha Sigma Lambda, Gamma Nu Phi, Interfraternity Council, Kappa Alpha Psi, Inc., Kappa Delta Pi, Panhellenic Association, Pi Sigma Epsilon, Sigma Gamma Rho, and Sigma Tau Gamma.

Political Organizations

- College Republicans seek to explain the political goals and platform of the Republican party, and introduce students to Republican office-holders and candidates, by sponsoring speakers, films, petition drives, a reference library, newsletters and campus debates with Student Democrats.
- The Fighting Spirit is a student political party which offers valuable political experience by sponsoring and electing a slate of candidates to Student Government and to the Senate. Numerous party members have won Student Affairs Awards and have been recognized in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.
- Political Science Academy seeks to develop political interest on campus through such service projects as sponsoring a day of concern, sponsoring speakers, meetings and assisting with petitions.
- UMSL Student Association provides student participation in the general administration and government of the university, by working with faculty and administration as elected representatives of the student body. Assembly meetings have been tentatively scheduled for the second Sunday of each month during the academic year.

The Student Association can be contacted in room 262 of University Center from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. weekdays, or by calling 553-5105.

- Student Democrats provide information on political issues that face students by presenting regular programs and providing a forum where government officials can interact with students.
  - UMSL Students For Action is an organization for students interested in political activism and/or campus service. Its purpose is to ensure that students have effective and vocal representation in decisions made at every level of the political process. Activities have included petitioning, letter-writing, speechmaking, and rally organizing.
  - Other political organizations include Libertarian students, and UMSL Coalition Against U.S. Aggression.
- Religious Organizations
- Baptist Student Union gives students opportunities for Christian growth and outreach or ministry to others. Activities have included weekly Bible studies, many conference trips throughout the United States, retreats, hayrides, parties and activities and camping trips for inner city children.

- Bible Study meets informally once a week in the University Center for weekly Bible study, going through a given book one chapter at a time. In addition the group sponsors Christian concerts and occasional film series, and last year had an information table in the University Center once a week.
- Intersarsity Christian Fellowship provides a forum in which Christian students, faculty and staff can develop in their Christian lifestyle and worldview. Weekly meetings are held on campus to discuss topics of mutual interest or to hear speakers. In the past the group has also attended conferences, social nights, and discussion groups.
- Moriah (Ministries) seeks to familiarize UMSL students with the traditional Judeo-Christian philosophy and lifestyle through the distribution of literature, lectures and movies.
- Newman House seeks to share a common Christian brotherhood. They hold regular retreats, masses, and prayer days, and take part in social and service activities. The group has sponsored trips, dinners, intermural, dances, and guest speakers.

They have also volunteered at a soup kitchen, written letters to Congress about social issues, and have studied social issues such as poverty and nuclear proliferation, and have worked at the Catholic Worker House monthly. All UMSL students are welcome at 8200 Natural Bridge Road every class day.

● Wesley Foundation and CMLS: The Wesley Foundation is sponsored by the United Methodist Church and works with Congregational Ministry in a Learning Society, which represents the Presbyterian Church, the United Church of Christ, and the Christian Church. Wesley Foundation and CMLS provide opportunities for worship, service, study, fellowship, and counseling.

Events for fall include a "Back-to-School" worship service and a float trip at the end of September.

The Wesley Foundation is at 8000 Natural Bridge, in the Normandy United Methodist Church. Rev. Roger N. Jesperson can be reached at 385-3000. CMLS is served by Rev. Timothy Balderson Smith at 427-0841.

Special Interest Groups

- Big Mountain Support Group is dedicated to stopping the forced relocation of nearly 10,000 Native Americans in Big Mountain, Arizona. The group works with the St. Louis support group to repeal P.L. 93-531. In April, a delegation of traditional Elders from both the Navajo and Hopi nations visited campus to tell about the effects of relocation.

The group also supplies food, clothing and medical aid to the people of Big Mountain. For more information call Mark Smith at 553-6020 or 677-3488.

● Associated Black Collegians helps black students adjust and feel comfortable. It is designed to academically, politically, and culturally enrich black students at UMSL. ABC provides informative speakers and educational entertainment and sponsors Black History Month on campus.

A schedule of meetings and events is available at the Black Culture Room at 254 University Center.

● Cadet Club is a curriculum oriented club designed to provide social and academic involvement for ROTC cadets, potential ROTC students and others. The club sponsors garage sales, float trips, a hayride, the turkey bowl, intramural teams, parties and picnics, formals, and leadership labs and field training exercises.

● Chess Club meets on a regular basis to discuss strategies, play and meet socially. The club hopes to hold several U.S.C.F. rated tournaments that will be open to the general public.

● Disabled Students Union promotes understanding, sensitivity and accessibility for students with disabling conditions. Each spring the club sponsors Disabled Awareness Week with such activities as wheelchair basketball games, disability simulations (in which non-disabled people use a wheelchair or crutches for part of a day), and, last year, a demonstration of therapeutic horsemanship by New Horizons.

For more information call the DMI Coordinator at 553-5211.

● International Students Organization promotes international understanding and cultural exchange for UMSL students, and assists in the acclamation of new international students to the campus and city.

ISO sponsors International Week each fall, featuring dances from many countries, cultural artifact displays, native dress, music and a cultural potpourri. Those interested in volunteering to welcome new international students are asked to contact Marilyn Ditto at 553-5211 or call the International House, 385-5860.

● Kayak Club emphasizes learning essential river safety techniques and basic kayak skills. The UMSL pool and all kayak gear are available to club members for an eight-week teaching and demonstration session held every semester. Other activities possible include films on water safety, float trips and participation in the annual kayak race at Fredericktown.

Membership is limited and on a first come basis. Inquire at room 203, Mark Twain, or call 553-5125.

● Sports Car Club provides an organization where students interested in cars can meet. See, CLUBS, page 14

Fine Arts

● Forensics and Debate Club prepares students for intercollegiate tournaments at major colleges and universities throughout the country. The team participates in 10 individual speaking events.

Last year the squad finished with an overall record of 155-81 and finished 16th nationally among the 322 schools belonging to the intercollegiate Cross Examination Debate Association.

The Squad will hold organizational meetings September 3 and 11 at 1:30 p.m. in room 216 Lucas Hall.

● Jazz Ensemble provides UMSL students with the opportunity to perform and learn jazz music. Auditions are held for any currently enrolled UMSL students. They consist of: a prepared selection, sightreading, and optional improvisation.

● KWMU Student Staff operates the radio station at specified times. Under an elected student management, they offer broadcast training on-the-air, for UMSL students who qualify.

Experience is offered in writing, announcing, recording, promotions, and engineering.

Interested UMSL students should complete a Student Staff application form

● Student Literary Magazine offers UMSL students a place to have their literary/artistic works published. They plan to publish a magazine in the fall, and another in the spring semester, as well as conduct a writers' workshop.

Especially helpful would be people who have had experience in typesetting, layout, editing, business, or word processing.

● Music Educators National Conference provides opportunities for professional development of college students of music education, through participation in state, division and national meetings.

On-campus activities include workshops, conventions, speakers, and a party.

● Opera Workshop offers opportunities to participate in opera production. All operas are done in english, and the cast and crew is made up of UMSL students.

Past shows have included The Magic Flute, The Marriage of Figaro, La Boheme, and La Traviata.

Many of our singers have gone on to win Metropolitan Opera auditions, and have sung with Opera Theatre of St. Louis.

● Symphonic Band provides the opportunity for experience in all types and styles of concert music. The group plays regular formal concerts on campus, pops concerts both on and off campus, and selected university events.

The band offers academic credit toward degree elective requirements.

● University Players offers students a variety of opportunities for participation in such activities as a playwrights' workshop, faculty/student cast parties, workshops for elementary schools, and the production of about three plays a semester.

Membership in the Players is open to anyone interested in working in theatre.

● University Singers offers such activities as St. Louis area performances, group social events, and annual concert tours.

Auditions are held in the Music Building and can be arranged by calling 553-5980.

● Other fine arts organizations include the Swingshift/Madrigal Ensemble.

Greek Letter

Greek life concentrates on close friendships, high scholastic ideals, personal development, and community service. Each year the campus fraternities and sororities hold dances, bashes, informal gatherings, scholarship workshops, road trips, contests for charity, parents appreciation dinners, and alumni dinners.

In the past the community service activities have included participation in the K-SHE Kite Fly, March of Dimes Phon-a-thon, KWMU Walkathon, Muscular Dystrophy Telethon, and the Judevine Center's Festival of Trees. In addition, many Greeks are active in other campus organizations as well.

MIAA

Sports Teams Seek To Improve Last Year's Marks

In the fall of 1980, the UMSL men's intercollegiate athletic teams joined the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association and have continued to improve ever since. The women's teams followed in 1982 and they too have become a force in the MIAA.

The men's and women's soccer teams will take to the field again this fall. Both teams received bids to the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament last year and hope to bring UMSL a national championship this year. The highlight of the women's schedule will be the St. Louis National Women's College Budweiser Tournament September 26-28. The men's squad will host the Budweiser Classic October 10 and 11.

The volleyball team will also compete this fall under the direction of first year coach Denise Silvester. The season begins September 10 and the home schedule will include the UMSL Invitational and the MIAA Championships.

Basketball season will begin in November. Coach Rich Meckfessel hopes to improve on last year's record, but will face a tough schedule that includes NCAA Division I tournament teams Iowa and Nebraska. A trip to Hawaii will highlight the Riverwomen's schedule.

The UMSL swim team showed great improvement last season and should do even better this year as they will return all but one member of the team.

The baseball team will take the field in the spring and will try to improve on last year's 24-17 mark. Second year coach Jim Brady is looking for an NCAA tournament bid for this year's squad.

The tennis teams and golf team will also compete in the spring. The golf team finished third in the MIAA last year and with the added experience should finish higher this year. The tennis teams struggled last year, but should bounce back this year.

All students are encouraged to attend any UMSL sporting events. Admission is free with a valid student ID.

All athletic teams are open to walk-on athletes. Anyone who is interested should contact the athletic department, 553-5641.

HOT PURSUIT: Junior Riverwoman Susan Daerda battles an opponent for the ball in a previous Budweiser Tournament here. The highlight of the home slate will again be the St. Louis National Women's College Budweiser Tournament. The Riverwomen will kick off the 1986 season on the road against Wisconsin September 7.

Fitness Facilities Offer Something For Everyone

Do you need a place to stay in shape during the long winter months? Why not use the facilities available at UMSL? The Mark Twain Athletic Complex and the UMSL campus have something for everyone.

The gymnasium in the Mark Twain Building offers a number of activities. Students can play basketball, volleyball, badminton, or jog the one-tenth of a mile indoor track.

Also in the Mark Twain Building there are four racquetball/handball courts, a weight room, and an exercise/wrestling room. The weight room is equipped with both free weights and universal machines. The exercise room contains an exercise mirror, a dance bar, and mats.

The swimming pool is also located in the Mark Twain Building. It is an Olympic-sized pool with six lanes and two diving boards.

Two locker rooms are available for men and women: one each in the main area and one near the pool.

Towels and soap are free with the presentation of a valid student ID.

For those who prefer outdoor activity, the UMSL campus offers a number of facilities. Outside the Mark Twain Building one can choose from six tennis courts or four racquetball/handball courts. A large intramural field can be used for a variety of sports including softball, football, and soccer.

A recent addition to the UMSL campus is the Fit-Trail. The Fit-Trail is a 1 1/4 mile jogging course which begins in front of the Mark Twain Building. The jogger runs the course and stops at each of twenty stations to perform various exercises. The trail relieves the boredom of jogging and promotes total body conditioning. It is designed for persons of all ages and has instructions for beginning and advanced levels of use.

These facilities are open to any currently enrolled student, staff or faculty member. Any questions can be answered by calling the athletic department, 553-5641.

Radio Broadcasting
than just talking into a microphone.

Professional newscasters not only announce the news, they go out and cover the news. And when they bring back the facts and the sound, they write concise, informative stories and use expensive, professional-quality tape machines and mixing boards to produce the stories you hear on the radio.

You can become a professional broadcaster

KWMU, the 100,000-watt FM station on the UMSL campus, is offering UMSL students the opportunity to learn station operations, news reporting and production, radio engineering and announcing with state-of-the-art facilities.

The KWMU Student Staff has opportunities for students seriously interested in radio broadcasting careers.

Why pay a fortune at so-called "broadcasting schools" only to end up in a backwoods rural radio station reading farm reports?

On the KWMU Student Staff, you can learn as much as your time, effort and talents allow, using the best equipment in town.

And if you're good, you can earn money working at KWMU while you finish your education.

Varied Programs

Intramurals Gear Up

The intramural office is again offering a variety of activities with something that should appeal to everyone. These programs promote not only competition and fitness, but a chance for everyone to participate and meet new friends.

Activities include basketball, volleyball, touch football, racquetball, and golf. Students may also choose from softball, bowling, soccer, tennis, and badminton. Other offerings are superstars, mini-marathon, soccer, weightlifting, white water kayaking, and orienteering.

One of the most interesting intramural programs is the "Swim The Mississippi" club. Participants schedule their own time to use the Mark Twain pool and then swim laps. They continue this until they have covered the entire length of the river. This event begins in September and runs the entire semester.

In addition to the regular activities, a number of special events will be held this year. These will include a softball tournament and barbecue, a tennis tournament, a punt, pass and kick contest, a 1½ and 3 mile Fun Run, a racquetball clinic and tournament, and a basketball free throw contest and hot shot tourney.

These sports are offered for men, women, and co-ed teams. Faculty and staff members are also invited to participate.

Any questions concerning schedules, rules, or eligibility requirements can be answered at the intramural office, room 203 of the Mark Twain Building, or call 553-5125.

SALUTE, SOLDIER: Members of the AROTC practice drills on campus.

AROTC Offers Training And Leadership

Get a clear, crisp picture of the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (AROTC) in your mind. Now forget it.

AROTC is not tin soldiers marching around preparing for a life in the military at the expense of all else. Yes, members will learn some drill and ceremony. And, yes, the opportunity to achieve a commission in the Reserves or Active Army is there.

But more importantly to members in the first years of college is the opportunity to get the most of one's time at UMSL.

AROTC offers a unique combination of leadership and management skills in its academics — Military Science. Members get a chance to practice those skills within the AROTC Program before you enter a chosen career. Outside the classroom, AROTC offers activities ranging from canoe trips to intramurals while hoping to make your time at UMSL both more enjoyable and productive.

The most important part of AROTC is the Corps of Cadets. The Army Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers serving as instructors make the classroom activities as challenging and interesting as possible. But outside the classroom, the students run the show.

The AROTC takes students willing to get involved and help make the program strong. For more information, call Cpt. Jamie Jamieson at 553-5176.

Graduate Offers Advice to Students

By Gail Evans
1986 Graduate

Are you prepared to enter the job market? Do you have the experience needed to face the competition? Do you know the "right" people? If your answer is no to any of these questions, maybe you should look into the possibility of being an intern.

Internships are an excellent way to find out if you're in the right field; if your chosen field is one that you would want to work in for the next 25, to 50 years. They also allow you to explore and discover some personal and professional strengths and weaknesses.

Internships can be done in almost any business sector imaginable: public, private, community, corporate and agency. For example community organizations such as the Red Cross and the Leukemia Society are always looking for help. Also, the various television stations accept inquiries for internships every semester.

Wherever and whatever you choose to do as an internship, the best time to pursue it is one to 1½ years before graduation. If your employers like you and are impressed, you may be offered a job after graduation. This time duration won't keep your possible employer on hold too long.

A key to a successful internship, I found, is to approach it like a job. Most internships don't pay; however, you do receive college credit. Sometimes your patience and good will may be tried. You may even slip into an internship where you are only seen as the gopher — going to get a soda and doing the jobs no one else wants to do. Doing the dirty work. But those kinds of internships teach you something, too. You learn how to speak up for yourself and you may decide that's a company you don't want to work for.

Another way to look at the situation is to look at it as an investment toward your future. You are gaining valuable experience and skills that could otherwise take years. An internship could make the difference between your being selected and someone else.

Employers are looking for people with experience, not just a diploma. Go out and ask a few questions. You can be promoted in an internship just like a job. I remember starting in UMSL's University Relations Special Events Department, stuffing and labeling thousands of envelopes, then moving up to prepare a tour of the campus.

I have also interned at Famous-Barr and KTVI Channel 2. Each was rewarding and taught me something new. For example, last semester when I was at Channel 2, I had never logged tape (similar to transcribing) because I didn't know anything about professional equipment. Not only did I learn how to log tape, I also learned how to transfer information from tape to tape. In addition, I was able to observe how to mix and see how shows like "Turnabout" are put together.

I had never been an assistant director (or floor director), but with help and practice, I learned how to give cues and perform tasks on the floor to make sure the show went smoothly. Besides learning these skills and others, I learned exactly what internships can tell you — what you are good at, and what you enjoy most.

Another "must" in this world is to have contacts. Internships give you contacts. One insider recently confided that knowing the "right" person may make the difference in a $10,000 starting salary and a $30,000 salary.

A couple of months ago, I had the opportunity to meet with an executive at D'Arcy, McManus and Masius. He talked to me and critiqued my portfolio. This was a result of someone I know asking him to talk to me, because she knew my work, knew I was interested in the company and believed in me. It was up to me to forge ahead and prove myself. The point, "It's not always what you know, but who you know."

One of the best resources to get internships is through instructors and professors here at UMSL. They are contacts and contacts lead to others. There are several people here who are some of the greatest people who have come into my life.

The knowledge gained from internships is unbelievable. Whether you capitalize on your experiences is up to you. You can learn the basics in your profession early, that may put you at least a year ahead in your job.

Through the experience gained from these internships, you can say Yes, you are prepared to enter the job market, you do have the experience needed to face the competition, and you know the right people to get started!

This Time Breeze Through Exams

By Robert J. Carr
Counseling Service

Generally, most students feel some tension before taking an exam. Being a bit nervous may actually help you to perform better.

This is similar to athletes who experience tension before competing. Experiencing such tension helps athletes in getting "psyched up" and may lead to a peak performance. Experiencing too much tension, however, can cause both athletes and students to do poorly and fail. Such is the case with test anxiety: the student's nervousness has become excessive and affects his/her ability to perform effectively.

If you have experienced test anxiety, you may think that you are one of a very few and that something is wrong with you. This is not the case; it has been estimated that as many as 20 percent of all students experience test anxiety at some time in their lives. If you are one of these people, you may wonder how you got to be this way and what you can do about it. If so, read on.

The test anxious student has taught himself or herself to be tense and anxious. Let's take a simple example to illustrate how this might happen. Students often think that worrying will help them to improve their performance, so they may tell themselves things like the following: "If I don't get an A on this midterm, I'll probably flunk the final. If I flunk the final, I'll be behind a semester and I may not graduate. If I don't graduate, I'll probably never get a decent job. If I don't get a good job, I'll end up having a lousy life. Maybe I should just quit now and admit I'm a failure."

This hypothetical student has in a few fleeting seconds progressed from thinking about a midterm exam to seeing his or her life as a failure. Such reasoning is, unfortunately, all too easy to do. Most of us have the capacity to criticize ourselves mercilessly. Such criticism can greatly affect our physical and emotional state and our ability to perform effectively.

Contrary to an all too popular myth, worrying does not help. If you want to be successful on your exams, stop worrying and try some of the following suggestions:

— Prepare well in advance. There is simply no substitute for adequate preparation for an exam. Start to study way before your exam and break your preparation down into manageable steps. Be sure to reward yourself for studying. Think of something pleasant or relaxing to do at the end of each study session.

— Avoid cramming. Studying for long periods of time is notoriously inefficient. Your mind can only absorb so much material in one sitting. You cannot master a semester's work by doing an "all nighter."

— Take care of the basics. Some students in their rush to prepare for exams forget to take care of themselves. Make sure you eat well and get sufficient sleep. Avoid caffeine and "uppers" while studying. Make time for physical activity and for relaxation. Exams naturally create some stress so pamper yourself.

— Plan ahead. Be sure to get a good night's sleep before your exam. Stop studying early and do something relaxing. Begin your day with a good breakfast and allow plenty of time for getting to campus. Find a quiet place and compose your thoughts. Tell yourself you are ready for the exam and view it as an opportunity for you to show as much of what you know as you can.

Plan to get to the test location a few minutes early but not too early. Avoid classmates who generate anxiety and who are looking for last minute answers. If waiting for the test to begin causes anxiety, distract yourself by reading a newspaper or magazine.

— Ask for help. The Counseling Service provides assistance to students who are having difficulty with test anxiety. A workshop on coping with test anxiety is being offered beginning on Wednesday, Feb. 26. Students can also be seen individually for help if they cannot meet the scheduled times. Let us hear from you. Maybe we can help.

The KWMU Student Staff is Serious About Radio

- Most college campus radio stations let students "play radio" on weak stations that few people can hear.
- Most college campus radio stations let students do whatever they want without regard to what those students will need to know when they try to find a job in broadcasting.

KWMU 90.7 FM is a real, 100,000-watt major-market station

- The Student Staff at KWMU works with professional broadcasters to produce professional-quality work.
- Student Staffers have the opportunity to learn a variety of skills, the skills they need to get jobs in radio.
- The KWMU Student Staff is not interested in "pretend" radio; to get on the air, you have to be good. But once you get on the air, you'll have worked and trained and learned the skills you need to launch your career as a broadcaster.

If you'd like to learn real skills on a real radio station, join the KWMU Student Staff.

Optometrists Keep Patients In Focus

U.S. School of Optometry would like to invite you to visit the Optometry Clinic facility. Located in Marillac Hall on the South Campus, the Optometry Clinic is open to the public as well as faculty, staff and students of the university. Our primary goal is to provide patients with high quality vision care. This purpose is consistent with our overall goal of training highly qualified vision care practitioners to serve the citizens of Missouri and the Midwestern region. To achieve this goal, we have close faculty supervision by licensed optometrists and the latest, state-of-the-art instrumentation.

Primary Care Clinic

The first step in our examination procedure is to get to know you, assess your eye health, and determine the ability of your visual system to do what is demanded of it. If you require eyeglass correction. To accomplish this task, we offer thorough eye examinations to obtain a comprehensive "data base" on all patients. This will serve as the basis of all future care rendered to you. A comprehensive examination requires about two hours and is performed by third- and fourth-year students under the direct supervision of highly qualified clinical faculty members. While two hours may seem like a long time for an examination, you must remember that this is a teaching clinic; thus, more comprehensive examinations are performed to arrive at a diagnosis. We are sure that after the examination you will be pleased with its thoroughness. Prescription eyewear services are available from our dispensary at competitive costs. Patients who are ordering prescription eyewear may choose from a large selection of modestly priced frames as well as designer frames. Patients who need various occupational and cosmetic tints will also find these available.

Should you desire or require specialized services, you will be referred to appropriate specialty clinic. We have specialty clinics in contact lenses, binocular vision, low vision, ocular health assessment, and specialized visual analysis. These clinics utilize the most advanced equipment and techniques available. They are equipped and staffed to handle those patients who need specialized care above and beyond the standard examination and treatment procedures normally offered in a general eye examination.

Specialty Clinics

The contact lens clinic offers patients an alternative to spectacle correction. Many people can obtain better vision with contact lenses than with spectacles; for example, those with keratoconus or those who have had cataract surgery. Others wear contact lenses so they can be more involved in athletics or other recreational activities. Many feel they "look" better wearing contact lenses instead of glasses.

The binocular vision and pediatric vision care clinic is devoted to helping patients who have problems with their eyes working together such as amblyopia (lazy eye), crossed eyes or other eye muscle coordination difficulties. The problem will be thoroughly evaluated, and a treatment program of eye exercises or spectacles may be prescribed, if indicated. The progress of the patient is then closely monitored. The faculty members in this area are also interested in evaluating children with learning difficulties which may have some visual basis. They work closely with educators, psychologists and others to help remedy these conditions.

The low vision and visual rehabilitation clinic provides comprehensive examinations and rehabilitative follow-up to patients who are partially sighted. Many of the patients examined in this clinic are legally blind (corrected visual acuity of 20/200 or lower). Many legally blind and visually impaired individuals have remaining vision which can be improved through the use of sophisticated optical devices. For the visually impaired individual, restoring usable vision means elevated self-esteem, improved self-confidence, and the ability to lead a fuller, more productive life.

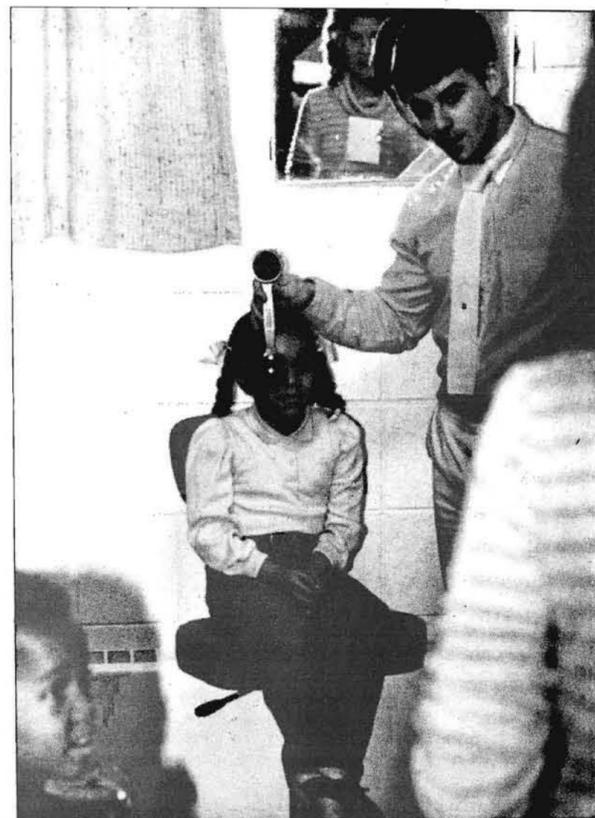

The ocular health assessment clinic was established to provide evaluation of patients with known or suspected ocular disease such as cataracts, glaucoma, retinal degeneration, and other eye afflictions of a local or general systemic nature. Many times, conditions progress slowly without producing warning symptoms until irreparable damage has been done. Prompt diagnosis and management can often improve a patient's vision and in some cases, can help prevent the progression of the disorder. Patients requiring medical consultation or treatment will be referred to the appropriate specialist.

The specialized visual analysis clinic is specifically designed to provide in-depth evaluation of visual functions which are beyond the scope of those normally provided. The examination procedures offered include a comprehensive analysis of color vision or night vision and evaluation of vision in patients who are not able to communicate or respond to normal test procedures. Examples are the electrodiagnostic evaluation (to measure brain electrical activity while seeing), ocular photography documentation (to record external and internal anomalies), and computerized visual field analysis (automated means of measuring peripheral vision).

We have strived to provide our patients with a comprehensive clinical facility designed to offer high quality vision care. An important aspect of this service is health education. We believe you deserve to be well-informed regarding your vision and eye health. We also provide referral services to and from practitioners throughout the state of Missouri, and the Midwest.

All examinations are by appointment. To obtain additional information about the services offered by the Optometry Clinic, please call 553-5131.

EYE OPENER: The UMSL School of Optometry provides numerous services for the St. Louis community and is located in Marillac Hall on the south campus.

35mm Color

Prints and Slides from the same roll

Kodak MP film... Eastman Kodak's professional color motion picture (MP) film adapted for still use in your 35mm camera by Seattle FilmWorks. With micro-fine grain and rich color saturation, its quality meets the exacting standards of Hollywood filmmakers. And with wide exposure latitude, you don't have to be a pro to get great everyday shots or capture special effects.

Experience remarkable versatility. Shoot in low light or bright light from ASA 200 up to ASA 1200. If you're shooting in tungsten lighting, we'll color correct for this at no charge. And enjoy the option of prints or slides, or both, from the same roll.

It's economical, too. For example, we'll process your film, send you mounted slides, negatives and a new roll of film—all for the incredibly low price of $4.60 per roll plus postage and handling. Quick, convenient mail order service... plus substantial savings.

Try our introductory offer. Of course it costs us more than $2 to send this to you. But we're confident that once you've tried the film, you'll become a regular customer. Why not see what this quality film can do for your photography. Send in today!

"there has long been the dream of one film that could produce everything... Such a film is here now in the form of 5247..."

A Survival Guide For All Students; New, Returning

A New Semester

● If you're new to the campus, take a half hour to walk around. Use the map provided, (page 5) or just wing it — discover the bookstore, the library, the videos in the Summit Lounge, the study areas in the classroom buildings, the weight room and swimming pool in the Mark Twain Building. Scope out each of your classrooms before the first day of school — you'll be able to relax knowing you won't be late because you got lost.

● Wait until you've attended your first classes before purchasing any books. Often you won't actually need everything listed in the bookstore. It is a good idea, however, to check out the textbooks under each of your class headings in advance — you'll know what the professor is talking about when he or she tells you what to buy.

● Learn your way around the Thomas Jefferson Library. This goes for seniors as well! It's never too late. The endless resources tucked away there may seem overwhelming, but once you learn the system, you'll be surprised how much easier paper — writing and research can be. If you don't know how to proceed, ask for help. You'll be glad you did.

● Eat lunch or breakfast in the cafeteria at least once a week — by yourself or with someone else. You'll see old friends familiar faces from classes, and — lo and behold — a professor or two! You'll make new friends as well, as long as you remain receptive.

● Make an effort to learn what campus organizations can offer you, and then join one. You'll build a network of friends and acquaintances at UMSL that will stay with you after you graduate. In addition, you can learn new skills and make use of ones you already have. Many organizations tie together social, academic and service elements for a well rounded program. Check with the Office of Student Activities in the University Center for information about organizations.

● Take five minutes after each class to introduce yourself to the professor. Whether there are 20 or 200 in your class, you'll stand out if you've spoken directly with the teacher. Don't be afraid! They were once college students as well.

● Make a friend in each class. This can be vital to your success, especially if you ever need to borrow notes. In addition, studying together can be twice as effective — if you're having trouble, don't try to grasp the theory of evolution or relativity all on your own. Two heads, or even three, are better than one!

Academic Actions

● Advisors say that the biggest mistake students make is not owning an UMSL academic catalog. In it are requirements for graduation in specific areas of study, and other general information necessary to planning a solid academic agenda. Catalogues may be purchased at the campus bookstore — a worthwhile investment considering the time and money you'll save by not taking classes you won't need.

● The second biggest mistake? Not seeing an advisor before planning each semester's classes.

● For students wishing to graduate soon: it may be just a wish if you don't file a degree application a year in advance. Once you've submitted the form advisors will notify you of any lack in your credits before it's too late.

● Transfer students especially need the help an advisor can offer, because the chances are high you'll repeat a class or think a class is transferring when it isn't.

GOODBYE SUMMER: As summer closes in and fall classes begin, the carefree dog days of summer will turn into hectic work and school days and long study nights.

Stop The Presses!

Editor Announces New Staff

By Steven L. Brawley
editor

As editor of the Current I am pleased to announce the 1986-87 newspaper staff.

Michael Luczak has been appointed the Business Affairs and Advertising Sales Director of the newspaper.

Luczak is a veteran of the staff and has worked in both the feature and business departments.

The Associate Business Affairs Director is Steven Luczak. All advertising and business inquiries should be directed to either Mike or Steve's attention.

Craig A. Martin will serve as Managing Editor of the newspaper this academic year.

Martin has served as editor of the student newspaper at St. Louis Community College-Florissant Valley and as news editor of the Current for a semester.

He will act as a liaison between the editor and the staff. All students interested in working on the newspaper staff should contact him.

Daniel A. Kimack will be an Associate Editor this year and oversee the copy editing and typesetting procedures of the newspaper.

Kimack served as editor of the Current during the 1985-86 academic year and he also works for the Suburban Journals.

This year's news department will be headed by Patricia Carr. All news leads and newsbrief information should be directed to her attention at the newspaper.

Linda Wendling and Ann Richardson will oversee the features staff of the newspaper.

This year's features section will highlight campus personalities and events. A crossword puzzle will be added to the section as well.

Coverage of campus sporting events will be handled by Sports Editor Dave Brown and Associate Sports Editor Diane Schlueter.

Cedric R. Anderson will oversee the photography department and experiment with the newspaper's new graphic camera.

If you want to know what is going on around UMSL, then contact Calendar Editor Terri Seymour.

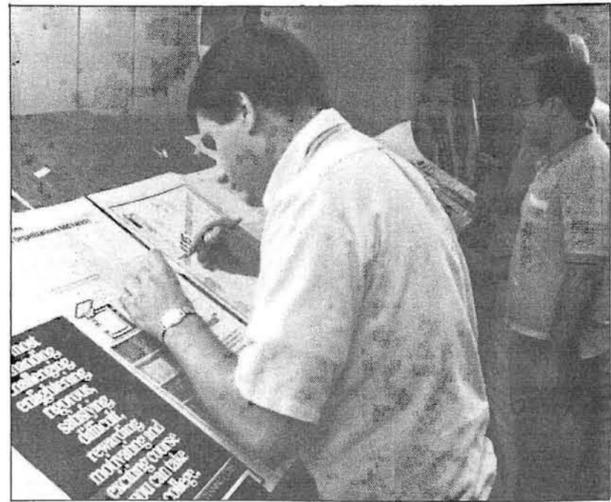

Seymour will also serve as Classified Coordinator this year.

John Dereak and Chris Stolte will work on the newspaper's graphic art staff and provide some comic relief throughout the year.

Jim Schwartz, Nick Pacino and Loren Richard Klabs will contribute special interest columns to the newspaper in the area of music, films and book reviews.

On behalf of these staff members, I would like to welcome you to the campus community and invite you to participate in student activities throughout the school year.

Whether you join our staff, or another campus organization, your involvement can only serve to enhance both the institution and yourself.

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS: Current Business Manager Mike Luczak puts the finishing touches on one of the advertisements that appears in this edition of the Campus Survival Guide.

SUMMER REVIEW: Find out what happened on campus this summer by catching the Aug. 28 edition of the Current. Read about the on-going construction work on campus, Chancellor Barnett's setting in process and the latest word on the status of Bugg Lake. All this, and more, coming the first week of classes.

Current Sets All New Copy Deadlines

Deadlines are hectic and frustrating at times, but they get the job done.

The Current has established the following deadlines and guidelines for the 1986-87 academic year.

Letters to the editor are encouraged from students, faculty, staff and the campus community.

The writer's student number and phone number must be included. Non-students also must sign their letter and provide a phone number.

No unsigned letters will be published. Names for published letters will be withheld upon request, if so desired. Responsibility for the letters to the editor belongs to the individual writer.

The newspaper is not responsible for controversial material in the letters, but maintains the right to refuse publication of letters judged to be in poor taste by the editorial staff.

No letters with libelous material will be published and letters may be edited for space limitations.

Send letters to the attention of Steven L. Brawley, editor, by 12:00 Noon, Monday prior to the date of publication.

Newsbriefs are located in the news section of the newspaper and is for short news announcements. This section can be used by faculty to announce new publications and awards and by students to announce scholarships and achievements.

News releases for this section should be sent to the News Editor by 12:00 Noon, Friday prior to the date of publication.

The Around UMSL section of the newspaper is for calendar listings. It runs weekly from Friday to Thursday. Material for this section should be submitted in writing no later than 12:00 Noon, Thursday prior to the date of publication to the Around UMSL Editor.

Phone items cannot be accepted and material may be edited or excluded to satisfy space or content restrictions.

Classified Ads are free of charge for UMSL students, faculty and staff. Ads must be submitted by 3 p.m. Friday prior to the date of publication. Ads should be 40 words or less and publication of free ads is not guaranteed due to space limitations.

Ads which fail to run will not be carried over into the next week, but can be re-submitted. The Current editorial staff reserves the right to reject any ad at its discretion.

Others are charged $4.00 for 40 words and 10-cents for each word after 40.

Please keep these guidelines in mind as the school year begins, so that the newspaper can maintain accurate coverage of campus events.

Newspaper's History Dates To 1960

Administration Building should be saved, some say

1974 CURRENT: This edition of the newspaper dealt with student's desires to save the old administration building. The building sat where the Library is now located and had a swimming pool in front of it.

The Current is the campus newspaper of the University of Missouri-St. Louis and is supported in part by Student Activities fees.

It is published to provide experience for students in newspaper production as well as to inform the campus community of relevant and timely issues.

The newspaper was first printed in 1960 as a Normandy Residence Center publication, called the "Tiger Cub". In 1964, one year following the founding of the present university, the name was changed to the "MIZ-ZOU News". The Current was adopted in 1966 and remains the title today.

The Current will publish 30 issues this year with a weekly circulation of approximately 7,500.

The newspaper offers members of the campus community an opportunity to voice their opinions through letters to the editor and also extends free classified advertising to students, faculty and staff.

Business, editorial and staff meetings will be held weekly. All staff meetings will be open to interested students who would like to learn more about the newspaper.

The newspaper subscribes to national college news services and is a member of the Missouri College Newspaper Association. Last year, the Current staff won six awards at the Association's annual competition.

Having journalism experience is helpful in all fields of study. By showing a potential employer a portfolio of published works, you can take your degree out of the classroom and into the real world. For example, if your major is Political Science you can work as a news reporter on the staff and gain further insight into your studies.

College credits can be earned through Speech Communication (199) internships and writing and layout positions are available in the news, features and sports departments of the newspaper.

Students interested in working on the newspaper are encouraged to fill out an application form at the Current offices, 1 Blue Metal Office Building (number 7 on the campus map), or by calling 553-5174 for information.
