Homecoming Game To Be Jan. 29 Coronation Dance Set For Feb. 2

The St. Louis Campus' first annual homecoming, a two night celebration, will highlight the upcoming mid-semester break. Plans to have the game and dance in one night had to be changed because many of the Logan players attend early evening classes and would have been unable to meet the proposed 7 p.m. starting time.

The celebration will begin on Tuesday, January 29, when the Cubs meet Logan Basic in the Normandy Junior High gym. Pre-game activities, including the introduction of the six candidates for Homecoming Queen, will begin at 8:15. Voting for the Queen will take place during half-time.

Festivities will continue the following Saturday, February 2, with the Coronation Dance from 8 to 12 in the Campus auditorium. Admission will be 50 cents per person. The SA Social Committee also told the TIGER CUB that the name of the band to play for the dance will be announced at the Homecoming Game. Plans to have the dance the night following the game, January 30, had to be changed because of night school classes.

Candidates for Homecoming Queen are Barb Bildner, a graduate of Normandy High School and a physical therapy major; Cheryl Bruce from Ritenour High, an education major; Jan Bux, a graduate of Bayless, planning to major in medical technology; Carol Ernst, from Riverview High, an education major; Carole Kral, Hazelwood and an education major; and Sandy Lock, a graduate of Mercy High, and an English major.

The six candidates were chosen January 10 by the members of the St. Louis Campus basketball squad in a special election conducted by SA Rules and Election Committee chairman, Allan Stein. Stein's committee, which consists of Steve Lipkind and Mike Stanis, will also conduct the voting January 29.

Arrangements for the Homecoming Dance will be handled by the SA Social Committee, consisting of Marge Doerr, chairman, and Jenny Stephenson, Jan Schmelzig, Jim Wilson, Sharon Hutson and Jerry Brooks.

Publicity will be the joint project of the SA Office Committee and the Bengals, an organization recently formed to promote school spirit. The Office Committee, which consists of Pat Knarr, Jan Finazzo, Carol Entzeroth and chairman Stephanie Taylor, will send a reminder of the Homecoming celebration to every St. Louis Campus student. The Bengals (see story on page 3) will handle publicity during finals, the pre-game activities and miscellaneous details.

Finals Today; Registration 31st. and 1st.

Final exams for the St. Louis Campus start today at 8 a.m. and will conclude next Friday, January 25. Final registration for the winter semester will take place from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. January 31 and February 1. Sophomores will register from 8 to noon January 31. Freshmen whose last name begins with the letters A through M will register between 1 and 4 the same day. All others will register between 8 and noon February 1.

During the final registration, students will pick up their schedules and pay all fees. Also during this period students will sell their old textbooks and buy new ones, either through the University Book Store or the SA Book Pool.

The Book Pool will operate in room 30 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. January 28, 29 and 30. Students must place a slip of paper with their name and the amount they want for the book inside the front cover of the text. The University Book Store will operate on registration days in the same manner as during fall registration.

Convocation and orientation activities for the winter semester include a New Student Orientation at 3 p.m. February 1 in the west side of the cafeteria, and an All-Student Convocation at 11 a.m. in 108 on the first day of classes--Monday, February 4--featuring an address by Dr. Amos Snider, Ass't. Dean of the University Extension Division.

Legislature Receives Bill To Allow Sale Of Campus

A bill to permit the Normandy School District to sell the property on which the St. Louis Campus is located was introduced into the Missouri State Legislature January 4 by Senator Robert Young and Representative Hickey.

The bill was written to overcome objections by the Missouri Supreme Court which recently held that the previous attempt to sell the property unconstitutional.

Several of the state's leading educators have asserted that the St. Louis Campus should be expanded into a full four-year branch of the University. Governor Dalton in his opening address to the General Assembly January 3 urged the legislature to encourage state colleges and to establish residence centers in Kansas City and St. Louis.

In a summary report to the Governor's Commission on Higher Education in Missouri, three national leaders in the field of education stated that "Higher education in Missouri faces challenges in the next few years which will require the highest possible level of co-ordination and planning between all existing institutions, public and private."

The report further stated that "If St. Louis has 40% of the college-age youth of the state by 1970, the most economical, efficient and educationally sound way for the state to meet its obligation in providing higher education is to build a new university in the St. Louis area. An adequate site has already been made available at Normandy."

The only foreseeable difficulty which might postpone the expansion is the failure of the legislature to approve the expanded budget.

Drama Group Cancels 'Laura'

The St. Louis Campus Drama Group has cancelled this semester's production of "Laura" However, the group still hopes to produce it at a later date and to present skits at various social functions.

In announcing the postponing of the play, club president John Dudash cited the failure of a large part of the cast to learn their lines and cues and the lack of cooperation from the student body as the prime causes.

He recalled that several times the club made fruitless appeals to the student body for volunteers to help with stage work. He also noted that personal reasons had prevented several members of the cast from devoting their fair share of time to rehearsals.

Looking Back for the Future

Now that the semester has finally reached its climax, we think it would be appropriate to review the many accomplishments that were made on this campus in the past months. However, it is also essential that we restate the shortcomings of the semester in the hope that they may be avoided in the future.

The St. Louis Campus has presented two dances, both under the leadership of the SA. The Halloween Dance and the Snowball are considered to have been quite successful. Furthermore, the Concert Series, for which we owe much gratitude to Mr. Armbruster, was also very well received.

In the field of sports, we can be proud of our bowling and basketball teams for their fine demonstration of admirable sportmanship and team spirit.

The Christmas Party, which was directed by Ken Mares, was so successful and gratifying that it will probably be made an annual event. It is also our contention that the Lecture Series was a fine presentation of speeches made by culturally enlightened lecturers. And, we were most fortunate to have been honored by the visit of Father Dismas Clark, whose speech was a most successful supplement to the regular lecture series.

There are many other activities which were successful: the Cheerleaders, the Buzz Book sale, and the formation of the Bengals, the Debating Club, and the Engineering Club.

However, much to our dismay, everything which has been attempted has not been as successful as the aforementioned activities. Our Yearbook, the Landmark, was a failure. By no means was its downfall the fault of Joe Cole and his staff. No, it was a failure because of the lack of interest displayed by the student body. Moreover, one of the prime examples of student apathy was demonstrated by the poor attendance by students at the lectures and concerts. We have previously stated that these ventures were successful in their manner of presentation. The crowds at the concerts were not caused by interested students. On the contrary, we must thank the members of our community, not our student body. Concerning the poor turnout for the lectures, we can only state that apathy is as much to blame as was the hampering schedule of presentation. And it is also a shame that administrative irregularities in the SA had to kill the intramural football and volleyball programs.

Henceforth, we feel that there are many things which the Campus must do so that it may continue its program of successful activities.

First of all, we suggest that a re-examination of the SA committee structure is needed. Also, it seems that a more extensive and coordinated program of advertising is needed to aid many activities. Perhaps an operative SA Public Relations Committee is a feasible solution. And most desperately, we need to improve our lines of communication. For this purpose, we are restating our wish for compulsory assemblies for the entire student body, in which discussion could be presented concerning any student activities or desires. Presently, all students are allowed to attend all SA meetings for this purpose. This opportunity has not been used. So we are proposing the former measure to supplement the latter.

We can only hope that the statements mentioned above will aid the student body in making the coming semester one which we may remember with pride.

The scene - a small mid-western university.

An attractive, young girl was casually talking with a friend. "Ya know," she remarked, "I don't think I'll go out with John, Saturday. I mean on a-kind he's Jewish. People might say things about me." On that, her friend, a quite agreeable person, quickly replied, "Well, I really agree with you. I've heard so many things about those people. I don't blame you at all."

Campus' Summer Program Enlarged

The St. Louis Campus summer school program will be expanded to twenty-five liberal arts courses this summer. C. E. Potter, Resident Administrator, announced recently. Students will be able to take up to eight credit hours and will be instructed by regular members of the University of Missouri faculty.

Applications (with transcripts) must be submitted to the office no later than Wednesday, May 1. The session will last from June 18 to August 9 with classes meeting five days a week.

Registration will be conducted June 17. Fees will be $15 per credit hour with the facility fee for students living outside the Normandy School District set at $4 for each credit hour.

Courses to be offered are: elementary accounting, introductory chemistry, general chemistry, general economics, educational psychology, history of education, English composition

Well, not more than twenty feet away, two upper-classmen were arguing about the admission of a Negro boy to their fraternity. "Bernie," said the older of the two, "don't you understand? They're different than us. We can't let someone like that into our house. Why, he'll ruin us - our good name. Why don't you understand?"

Well, Bernie couldn't understand. Moreover, there are many other collegiates who simply can't understand prejudice or intolerance. Questions like: "What is prejudice? What is color? What problems do students actually encounter on campus?" perplex them.

If you feel as Bernie did, and you wish that you knew the real answers; then, the College Leadership Training Seminars, which are to be presented by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, are the answer to your problems. This series, which is to be presented on campuses of St. Louis area universities, begins on Tuesday, the 12th of February at 7:30 p.m., at the St. Louis Campus of the U. of Mo. If you are interested, I hope that you will contact either Roy Walkenhorst, Mike Lindhorst, or myself for details.

This series should prove to be enlightening for all who participate.

Here and Now Normandy

BY MARY HILDEBRANT

It is always sad when a campus tradition dies. It is even sadder when that tradition dies prematurely. It is saddest yet when that tradition does not die, but is killed outright before it has even had a chance to develop to its full promise of greatness. (Note that comparison of adverbs there ---sad, sadder, saddest; smock, smocker, smockest; poor, poor, poor;---The lot of a journalist is not an easy one). The destruction of the pagoda at the hands of a heartless pyromaniac has brought such an end to such a tradition, and such an end of such a tradition has brought such sorrow to the campus.

At various times in its short, but poetically beautiful life, the pagoda has been a symbol of many things for many people. We know there are no adequate words to ease their grief. Perhaps it will be of some help, however, to remind them that though the Pagoda is gone, recollections of happy hours spent there can be lived and re-lived in their memories. And especially in the memory of the Bel-Nor police force which recently held a mysterious, gala celebration.

This column has received a number of complaints. It seems there are those people at this school who feel that the newspaper has slighted them. My apologies to:

"Our Corner"--which hasn't been mentioned in the paper this year. Maybe it's because the members are always in some "little room" looking at pictures --at least they say its pictures. Steph and Ron, huh? Hmmm.

The "other side"--where conversation reaches such aesthetic levels of excellence that, if you come there with a closed mind --you'll lose it.

Don Grisser--who really hasn't been slighted--but who feels misrepresented. Don--better known as "Cowboy" to his friends, would have better luck if he talked less and remembered more of, parties. Still reading "Rape of the Lock" to your watch, Don?

And that should take care of the complaints. Ha!

Tom Doerr--Shame on you for ruining the play--why couldn't you behave at practice.

And the launderer is asking, Gene Herman, what do you do to your shirt collars--maybe he should ask Sharon Stephenson--but then, how would she know?

Items in Lost and Found--One Emily Massa at the Holiday Drive Inn--our only question is why did you even try to get back?

Bengals Granted Charter By SA

The Student Association recently granted a charter to the Bengals, an organization formed to promote attendance at all campus functions. At their first meeting the Bengals elected Gene Herman president. Other officers elected were Vice-President Emily Massa, and Secretary-Treasurer Jan Finazzo.

The Bengals first activities will be in Homecoming, Tuesday and Wednesday January 29 and 30, and in New Student Orientation, February 1. In the Homecoming celebration the Bengals will be in charge of pre-game activities at 8:15 January 29 and of any other incidentals which fall outside the sphere of other participating groups--the Rules and Elections Committee and the Social Committee.

As the TIGER CUB went to press, no specific plans for their part in Orientation had been announced.

Cafeteria Area Improved

Various changes in the appearance of the St. Louis Campus and in the services offered to students and faculty have occurred during the holidays.

A co-operative project of Spot Sales, Inc., and the Normandy School District has resulted in numerous changes in the cafeteria itself.

Spot Sales furnished a seventeen hundred and fifty dollar stainless steel cooking and refrigerating unit which has a bun warmer and which will soon include a cooking unit for salads and pies. The Normandy School District built a false wall over the area which was ridged and often collected dust. The entire serving area was enclosed to prevent the exposure of the food and to maintain more moderate temperatures.

Another new addition to the campus is the new bookstore which has been constructed by the Buddemeyer Construction Company at a cost of seven hundred and fifty dollars. Beginning the spring semester, it will tentatively be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

The store will sell text books, paperback books for reference and general enjoyment, paper, pens, and pencils, and such items as University sweat shirts, banners, and car stickers.

Mixed Chorus to Meet February 8; Plans for Semester to Be Made

The mixed chorus planned by Mr. Charles Armbruster will hold an organizational meeting Tuesday, February 5 at 1 p.m. in room 218. At this meeting the group will decide the most convenient time for the members to practice. Armbruster plans at least three hours of practice per week.

All interested students should fill out applications cards in the office. Tentative plans now call for a concert near the end of April or the first part of May. The group will sing difficult pieces, such as the Mozart Requiem, lighter peices and University songs.

The chorus will also perform at University functions, and throughout the community, with a moderate amount of traveling included. For special presentations, Mr. Armbruster indicated that professional soloists and an orchestra might be added to augment the chourus.

He also expressed a desire to have approximately forty voices in the group. No experience in choral or musical groups is required, but, as Mr. Armbruster stated, "They should be willing to take rehearsal seriously and do their best for the group and their school."

In addition to the work, Armbruster indicated that there would be social events, such as parties and other activities for the group. He also expressed the hope that the chorus would be a prestige organization and that it would one day equal the Washington University Chorus or the traveling choir in Columbia.

Fr. Clark Cites Convict Needs In Lecture Here

An overflow crowd greeted an off-the-cuff lecture by Father Dismas Clark on December 19 in room 108. The topic of Father Clark's lecture was the importance of after-care programs in the rehabilitation of ex-convicts. His visit was made possible by the efforts of Miss Bethany Larkin, Campus sociology instructor, and was not connected with the Daytime Lecture Series.

In his talk he attempted to establish clearly in the minds of his audience the definite line which exists between "treatment" for the convict within the "walls" (prison) and "on the street" (outside of prison). Within the prison Father Clark contended there is, at present, no adequate treatment for prisoners--despite attempts made to establish rehabilitation programs within the prisons.

The prison remains, unfortunately, a place in which men's minds, will, and bodies are destroyed. According to Father Clark, after-care programs such as that developed at Halfway House, the St. Louis rehabilitation center for ex-convicts, are the only effective programs for convict rehabilitation now available in the United States.

Cubs Drop Heartbreaker to S-B

Meet St. Louis Baptist Tonite At 8 at N.J.H.

The Tiger Cubs will be out to avenge an early season defeat when they meet St. Louis Baptist College in a non-league contest tonight at 8 p.m. on the Normandy Junior High court.

Coach Bob Meyers' St. Louis Campus cage squad dropped a 73-72 heartbreaker to Sanford-Brown College Monday, January 14 at Ritenour High School. The defeat was the first league setback for the Cubs, whose conference record is now 3-1, and who are now in second place.

Dave Willson's fine rebounding and timely scoring high-lighted the game. The Cubs staged a rally in the game's closing minutes which brought them within one point of victory.

Dave Willson paced all scorers with 32 points. Tom Jacobs fired in 10 markers, almost saving the game for the Cubs with seven points in the last three minutes of action.

The Cubs posted their third league victory without a loss as they topped Eden Seminary, 73-61, January 11 at Plymouth Junior High.

After leading by only two at the half, the Cubs pulled away from Eden, at one time running their advantage to as much as 17 points.

Tom Hadican led the team defensively, and was also the top Black and Gold scorer with 21 points, Bill Ilseman and Dave Willson contributed 12 and 10 markers respectively.

The Harris Teachers College Junior Varsity ripped Coach Bob Meyers' Cubs, 72-48, in a non-league contest played at Normandy Senior High School January 7.

The Cubs never held an advantage in the game, falling behind 9-0 before Tom Hadican put the St. Louis Campus on the scoreboard with two freethrows.

Harris left the court at the half with a nine point lead, which they increased in the last 10 minutes of the game. The Cubs pulled within five points of the lead with 11 minutes left to play, but were unable to overtake the taller Harris squad.

Steve Shaughnessy netted 15 points to lead the Cubs in scoring.

The St. Louis Campus cagers rolled to a 76-61 victory over Eden Seminary January 4 at Normandy Junior High. The triumph was the second without a defeat for the Cubs in St. Louis College Basketball Conference competition.

The Cubs raced to an early lead and held the advantage throughout the contest.

Tom Hadican paced all scorers with 22 markers, while Dave Willson and Steve Shaughnessy notched 18 and 11 points respectively.

ATTEND HOMECOMING

SA Cancels Volleyball IMs

The co-ed intramural volleyball games, scheduled to begin after the Christmas holidays at the Normandy Senior High School, have been canceled. No further plans for rescheduling of the games have been announced.

The cancellation followed Carl Doerr's resignation from his post as Chairman of the SA Intramurals Committee. Doerr did not give his reasons for resigning from the chairmanship.

Mike Lindhorst, SA President stated that as soon as someone is named to fill the post left vacant by Doerr, planning will begin for the annual spring tennis tournament.

Last semester, over 65 students participated in an independently sponsored tournament, won by Larry Thoele. The possibility of including a co-ed division in the competition is also being discussed.

Campus Bowlers Take 2 Out of 3 From St. Louis University Saturday

By LARRY RYAN

With a two and a half week rest and a two out of three game victory under their belts, the Campus bowlers will prepare to meet their next opponent Saturday, January 19.

Last Saturday, January 12, the St. Louis Campus bowlers took two out of three games from the St. Louis University bowling squad with team scores of 951 to 945, 920 to 1063, and 1017 to 916. The three game series was a bit unusual in that the St. Louis University squad was high for total pins with 2934 to 2888, although the Campus bowlers won the series.

High bowlers for the first game were Carl Doerr and Keith Eilermann with 190 and 187 respectively. The second game saw Carl Doerr taking the honors again with a 184 and Barry McLintock a close second, with a 171. Keith Eilermann had the individual high score for the third game with a 202 and Mike Shepard made a good showing with a 196.

The team record is now 17 and 10, having won 15 out of their last twenty games.
